We are committed to developing, implementing, and maintaining innovative efforts to sustain and improve our quality of life, our community, and our planet, recognizing that these areas are interconnected.

Sustaining Our Quality of Life:

Osborne Wood Products, Inc. seeks to sustain the quality of life of our employees. In addition to full medical benefits, employees enjoy an array of preventative health care. From a work-sponsored wellness program to a full work-out facility, employees of Osborne Wood Products, Inc. are encouraged to take care of their bodies before sickness occurs. Our gym facility includes a full basketball court, racquetball court, weight room, and an aerobics room. Such benefits inspire the employees, allowing them to contribute to an uplifting workplace atmosphere.

Sustaining Our Community:

Osborne Wood Products strives to be a sustaining force in the surrounding community. One way that we accomplish this is through participation in a local mentoring program. One day a week, several Osborne Wood Products employees take their lunch hour to spend time with a student from the elementary, middle, or high school. Seeing the need for a lasting impact in the lives of local students, we contribute through mentoring, but also through supporting local organizations such as the Stephens Education and Literacy Foundation and CASA (a nonprofit group which supports court appointed volunteer advocacy for abused and neglected children).

Sustaining Our Planet:

And last, although certainly not least, we here at Osborne Wood Products, Inc. make the effort to sustain our planet. In our recent building addition, we did research to determine the best eco-friendly ways to expand our offices and warehouse. We used sheet rock, paints, timber, and carpeting that were low (or no, in some cases) Volatile Organic Compounds (V.O.C.). We used blown in cellulose insulation, which was made from recycled materials, for fiberglass free insulation. Also, the carpeting and the sound proofing fabric used in some office space were made from recycled materials, as well. All of these things contribute not just to general eco-friendliness, but also to the health and welfare of Osborne employees. Even further still, in some of our carved items we offer Rubberwood (also known as Parawood), an eco-friendly wood species. We are also looking into what other green wood types we can add to our already expansive repertoire.

Sustainability is a concept that we take seriously; not a trend, but a way of life. We seek to promote sustainability – of quality of life, of community, and of the planet – in all that we do!

Steel Hairpin Leg

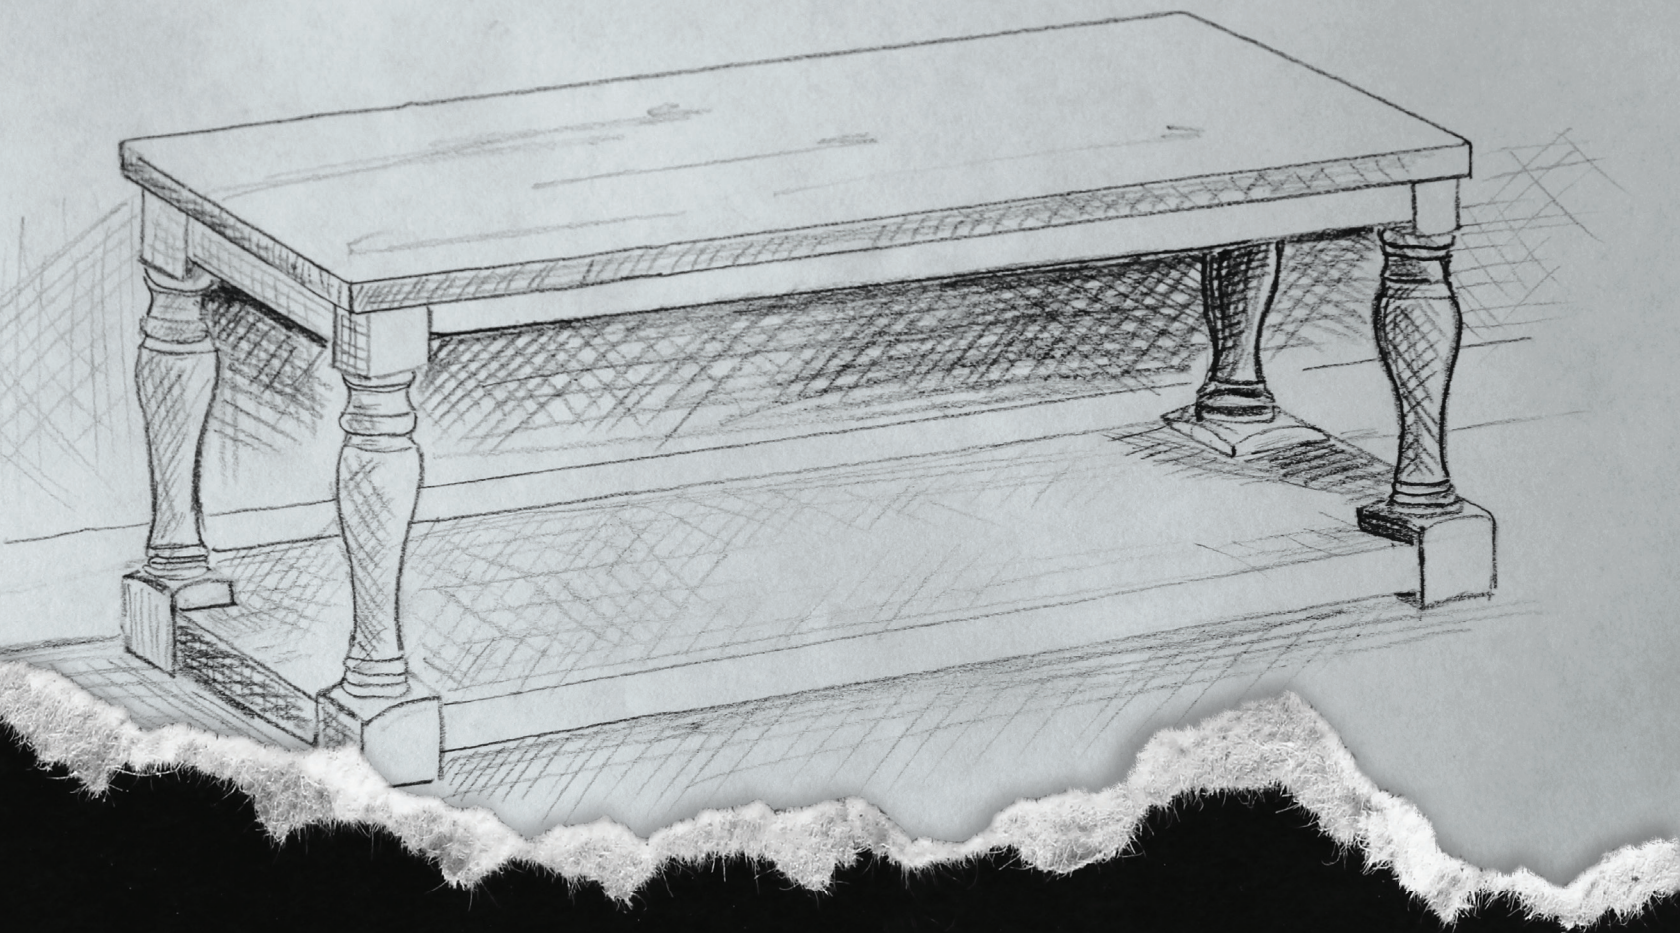

Hairpin legs are the perfect addition to the contemporary home. Whether your style is industrial, rustic, contemporary, or Mid-Century modern, the hairpin style is a flawless fit for your next project. At 18" high, this hairpin coffee table leg will support your design with style!

Impress your friends and family with your sense of style when you choose the hairpin legs for your next project. Featuring pre-drilled holes on the top of the legs, these components are both stylish and easy to assemble. With unlimited possibilities, hairpin legs are sure to be an instant classic!

Hairpin legs are made of steel and are handcrafted in the USA. Steel is coated to prevent any rust formation, and to give your hairpin leg a raw, authentic look and feel. Imagine a set of hairpin legs supporting your coffee table, dresser, or furniture design. Choose a flat black finish to complement or contrast your design. No matter the finish you choose, hairpin legs are the perfect addition to the modern home.
