EXTRA OPERATIONS

END TRIM - This operation cuts the leg down by removing inches from the shank to adjust the overall height of the post. Determined by customer.

SPLITTING - This operation cuts the leg in half from the top down, producing two equal halves. When splitting legs or posts with windows, the front face only will be windowed.

DIAGONAL SPLIT - This operation cuts the leg in half from the top down from corner to corner.

PARTIAL NOTCH - This process removes one quarter of the post from the top down and stops 4" before reaching the bottom. This can be adjusted to fit your need.

FULL NOTCH - This operation removes one quarter of the post entirely.

QUARTERING - This operation cuts the leg from the top down, producing four equal pieces.

FINISHING - Finishing - call for custom quote and available finishes.

HANGER BOLT - This operation bores for and installs a hanger bolt in the product.

SPECIES AVAILABLE

STANDARD SPECIES - Expected lead times are 2-5 days. Subject to change based on manufacturing requirements.

ALDER - Classified as a hardwood, the wood is soft, white when first cut, turning to pale red which often looks similar to cherry. It is characterized by its straight closed grain and even texture. It takes stain well. Being rather light, soft and uniform in color, it can be easily worked.

CHERRY - Classified as a hardwood, the reddish-brown wood is hard, strong and heavy. Our cherry is 90%+ red with minimal to no sap. This wood sands and finishes beautifully, making it a highly desired species for the making of furniture and cabinetry.

MAPLE - This wood has medium density, strength and hardness. It is a light, closed grained, uniform in color species. Light greys and light browns may appear. No dark colors.

POPLAR - The soft, fine-grained species is considered a paint grade wood. Poplar, normally light in color, may have medium to light green color with no blacks or purple allowed.

RED OAK - This wood is known for being very heavy, strong, hard and coarse grained. Pale reddish brown in color. Uniform in color.

RUBBERWOOD - This is wood from the Pará rubber tree. Rubberwood is harvested only after it completes its latex producing cycle, generally when it is 25-30 years old. Rubberwood is advertised as an "environmentally friendly" wood, as it makes use of plantation trees that have already served a useful function. Rubberwood has a dense grain that is easily controlled in the kiln drying process. Uniform light brown in color, this species can be stained or painted.

WHITE PINE - The wood is a soft, lightweight wood. It has a straight grain and a fine even texture. White pine is creamy white or a pale straw color often having the characteristic solid pine knots.

PREMIUM SPECIES - Expect extended lead times from 2-5 weeks. Call for estimate.

HICKORY - The wood is very hard, dense and durable. The grain is normally straight, however sometime can be irregular or wavy. Hickory varies widely between color from reddish brown, white and lighter brown.

AFRICAN MAHOGANY - One of the most valued of the premium species in furniture and cabinetry. The wood has a characteristic grain and a medium coarse texture. It varies from medium red to light reddish brown. Uniform in color.

WHITE HARD MAPLE - The wood is a closed grain hard wood. The sapwood can be very white in color. Hard Maple is usually very consistent in color and uniform in accepting stains. A favorite of the stain grade species.

WHITE OAK - This wood is a straight grain, a medium coarse grain hardwood. White Oak is harder and heavier than Red Oak. It ranges in color from dark brown to light brown, lacking the reddish tones of the Red Oak. Because of the tighter, straighter grain pattern, a more consistent finish is accomplished.

WALNUT - Considered rare, Walnut is a valued favorite of the premium wood species. Very durable and strong, its naturally chocolate brown color and exquisite closed grain pattern sets it apart from all others. This wood finishes beautifully.
